- Master of Science in Occupational Therapy, 1997
The University of Social Welfare and Rehabilitation Sciences, Tehran, Iran.
Thesis title: “Power strength in school-aged children”
- Bachelor of Science in Occupational Therapy, 1990
Iran University of Medical Sciences, Tehran, Iran

Research Interests

My major areas of interest include:

- Occupational therapy for children with CP and their parent training
- Research methodology and study design
- Survey questionnaire design and development and cross-cultural validation of outcome measures.

I have followed my first interest in “children with cerebral palsy and their parent training” since I was studying as a Bachelor’s student. My second interest is “research method and study design”, and my third interest is “questionnaire development and cross-cultural validation of outcome measure”. My publications in the next section are also divided among these three interests. I provided my expertise in these areas to many students and colleagues in their research projects within the field of occupational therapy and allied health sciences and helped them to design appropriate research and validate questionnaires and tests for their research.
